

Heiser Waives Examination And Is Held For Grand Jury

Youth Charged With Attempted Extortion in Sending Threatening Letters—Represented in Court by Attorney—Copy of Letters Received by Mr. Gorman.

John H. Heiser, 17, of 98 Green street, waived examination in police court today on a charge of attempted extortion in sending threatening letters to Vincent A. Gorman of 184 Albany avenue, and was held to await the action of the grand jury which convenes in May. The amount of bail is to be fixed by county court. At the present time the youth is out on bail in the sum of $500. Young Heiser is represented by Attorney Robert J. Howard.

When young Heiser was arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court today Attorney Arthur C. Connelly appeared also and stated that he appeared for Mr. Gorman. Attorney Connelly said that Mr. Gorman and his family had suffered beyond measure since receiving the first threatening letter as they were in the dark as to who the author of the letters was.

Since the apprehension of young Heiser, Mr. Gorman no longer feels that it is a personal matter, but a community one. Mr. Connelly said that Mr. Gorman was not vindictive, and desired it clearly understood that he was exceedingly sorry for not only the parents but the young man himself for the position he had gotten himself into. Mr. Gorman, said Mr. Connelly, believed that whatever was done must be done in the interests of the public. So many people have interested themselves in the case that he wished it clearly understood that he no longer considered it a personal matter but a community one.

The first threatening letter, sent on April 1, reads as follows:

Mr. Gorman
Dear Sir:
This is not a hoax. I want $250 and I want it quickly. I was a friend of yours once, but now your enemy. I threaten your children and your property if this is not paid. And your personal body if communication is made with the police. Pay and keep your trap shut or distressing news may happen.

Go in your car alone with the money out this road known as the plank road. Start from the viaduct 9 p. m. Monday. Let no car follow you. Drop the 250 in small bills not over $10s at the position where a white cloth will be tied to a fence on each side of road. Money must be in small satchel. Sound your horn easily and beat it.

If any one is notified I warn you WATCH OUT

A Post Card Followed
The first letter was followed by a post card which read: "Time of payment has been changed. Wait until further instructions have been received. Instructions will follow soon."

Then a Telephone Call
Monday evening at 9:30 o'clock Mr. Gorman received a telephone call with a warning and telling that letter No. 3 would be received Tuesday and he must act on it.

The Third and Last Letter
The third and last letter follows: HERE ARE THE FINAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Do these things if you want you and your property to be alright. Have cash read as stated in other letter.

At 4 P. M. TUESDAY today you will do these things.

START 4 P. M. from your home. You will be watched. Drive down the WILBUR road and proceed to EDDIEVILLE. Along the route you will see 3 cloths fastened to the road fence. Drop cash and proceed to Eddieville. You may then go to your destination. Remember if you value your life your children's and your property you will do this. If you don't.

If you try any tricks it will be too bad for you. 3 of us work this.

Police Laid Plans.
When the contents of the third letter were known the police department made arrangements to lay a trap and catch the author of the letters. Chief of Police J. Allan Wood had enlisted the cooperation and help of State Troopers and the 8250 demanded was placed in a satchel and turned over to Sergeant Charles Phinney of the police force.

Sergeant Phinney drove Mr. Gorman's auto and riding with him were two State Troopers in plain clothes.

First Designated Spot.
As Sergeant Phinney drove along Wilbur avenue and was approaching the intersection of West O'Reilly street he saw the three white cloths fastened to the roadside fence with thumb tacks.

Following instructions in the letter the sergeant threw the satchel containing the money out of the car window and drove on without stopping. Instead of driving as far as Eddieville as instructed, however, he drove some distance beyond the designated spot marked by the white

Navy League Presents New Charges Against Hoover Naval Policy

League Charges President is Neglecting the Navy and Making It "Scapegoat" for Recent Increases in Taxation.

Washington, April 7 (AP)—A new, sweeping denunciation of President Hoover's naval policy was issued today by the Navy League of the United States.

The President was charged with neglect of the navy and with wrongly parading armaments as the "scapegoat" for the great increase in taxation during recent years. This charge was accompanied by an argument to show that other expenditures have played the major part in building up the taxpayer's burden.

The league said Mr. Hoover had done "virtually nothing" to replace vessels which have passed or are reaching the limit of effective age, and that "while Europe smolders and Asia is ablaze, the president insists that we cannot now afford even to start moderate measures for building up our fleet to treaty terms."

Pamphlet Denounces.

Today's attack was the most conspicuous one by the league since last October when its president, William Howard Gardner, sowed the seeds of a notable controversy with the White House by a statement charging Mr. Hoover, among other things, with exhibiting "abysmal ignorance" on naval matters. That incident ended with the verdict of a special board, chosen by the president to investigate the charges, which upheld Mr. Hoover and said the league statement contained many inaccuracies, false assertions and erroneous conclusions. The league disputed the findings, however. Today's statement also was issued over Gardner's signature, in the form of a printed 17-page pamphlet entitled: "The Treasury Deficit and a Treaty Navy."

Comparing costs of operating various government activities from 1913 to 1932 the league said:

"The conclusion seems inescapable that in searching for the causes of the evident increase in the 'crushing burden of taxation' we must look elsewhere than to the armaments 'scapegoat' that Mr. Hoover and the pacifists parade."

Reviews Situation
Over the past 20 years, it said, Federal military expenditures have increased "far less than three-fold while expenditures for non-military purposes have been allowed to increase eight-fold; and it also appears that, under Mr. Hoover's management, non-military expenditures have gone up 30 per cent while he has reduced expenditures for military purposes by two per cent."

The league blamed on the President's insistence the shelving by the House Naval Committee this session of the Vinson bill for building the fleet up to treaty limits over a 10-year period. It argued this was done "allegedly because of the financial situation of the Treasury," contended the bill involved only $18,000,000 expenditure in the fiscal years 1933, and contrasted this item with expenditures of hundreds of millions for various emergency purposes which it said were "approved by the President."

Summing up its view of the present policy on naval affairs, the league said:

"In money expenditures, in ships and in men the navy has been restricted and reduced so that, in effect, it is being starved into inadequacy."

Marshall Von Huebel Dead
Vienna, April 7 (AP)—Field Marshal Arthur von Huebel, former commander of the Austro-Hungarian Military Geographical Institute and a pioneer in color photography and photographic survey development, died today, aged 73.

For five years after the war Marshal Von Huebel was in Brazil organizing a geographical institute there.

Heiser Captured.
Officers Leonard and Camp, who were following the Gorman car as they approached the spot marked by the cloths saw the youth about to pick up the satchel and stopping the car they jumped out and caught him.

Confessed Writing Letters.
Young Heiser was taken to police headquarters, where he was closely questioned by Chief of Police Wood, who got him to write on several pieces of paper. The youth in writing spelled several words as they had been written in the threatening letters and when that fact was brought to his attention he broke down and confessed.

His statement was taken down on the typewriter and after he had read it over Heiser signed it.

Schmeling Expected To Train At Greenkill Park

The office of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce was a busy place this afternoon. It was filled with progressive Kingstonians and the handlers of Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion of the world, to put the finishing touches on agreements for him to train at Greenkill Park, near here, for his title bout with Jack Sharkey at the Yankee Stadium, New York, June 16.

Billy McCorney, co-partner with Joe Jacobs in directing Schmeling, together with a group of lawyers, who drove deeply into the examination

Daly Is Held On A Bigamy Charge

Meadow Street Man Charged With Having Married Dorothy Kellerhouse Here Without Having Divorced From His First Wife—Hearing Monday.

Frank Daly of 58 Meadow street, was arrested on Wednesday by Officer Camp on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Dorothy Kellerhouse Daly of Poughkeepsie, who charged Daly with bigamy in marrying her while his first wife was living and from whom he had not obtained a divorce.

According to a copy of the marriage certificate that Mrs. Dorothy Kellerhouse Daly filed with Judge Culliton in police court she and Daly were married on February 19, of this year by the Rev. Charles B. Smith of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. At the time the license was obtained Mrs. Daly gave her address as Hurley, while Daly gave his address as 58 Meadow street.

Mrs. Dorothy Kellerhouse Daly in obtaining the warrant for Daly's arrest said that she did not know Daly was a married man at the time, but that she and her husband had only spent the night of February 19 together and that she had left him the next day when she learned that he was already married.

Daly, when arraigned in police court today asked Judge Culliton to have the hearing adjourned so that he could retain a lawyer. The hearing was adjourned to Monday morning, and bail bond furnished by Daly Wednesday was continued until that time.

Tariff Row Embroils Tax Bill in Senate

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The billion dollar revenue bill is getting embroiled in one of the Senate's most bitter tariff rows.

Half a dozen pending proposals to incorporate new import taxes in the revenue measure have stirred a round of activity such as seldom heralds the arrival of even such an important measure as this.

The finance committee left the door open for tariffs yesterday when it rejected by a 10 to 5 vote a motion to ban new duties on imports from the tax raising measure.

Senator Walsh of Mass., and Tidyings, of Maryland, both Democrats promptly began a campaign on the Senate floor to mobilize a majority against any and all tariff duties.

The House put into the bill import levies on oil and coal. Senate amendments are pending to add tariffs on wood pulp and copper.

The administration is following a "hands off" policy in the dispute, which is splitting party lines and threatening a bitter if not a protracted debate on the vital revenue bill.

Table War and Navy Consolidation

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The House expenditures committee today tabled the Democratic sponsored bill to consolidate the war and navy departments.

Chairman Cochran said the vote was 12 to 8, with seven Democrats and one Republican for the measure. The bill had been sponsored by House Democratic leaders—including Chairman Byrns of the appropriations committee. Its author—as something that would save $100,000,000 a year.

Reports were that since the expenditures committee had defeated the bill, the special House economy committee might take it up.

Cochran, however, who is a member of the economy committee, said he would not press it before that group.

Committed to Hospital.
Mrs. Anna Hung of Zena was committed to the Middletown State Hospital today by Judge Traver, following an examination by Doctors Sanford and Dudenhausen. Mrs. Hung, it was stated, had been acting in an erratic manner of late and had made threats against her husband, George Hung, Jr.

O'Donnell's Lucky

of all terms concerning contracts for him to train here, kept Secretary Ashton Hart, of the chamber of Commerce, and representatives of Kingston business men busy for a long period before bringing negotiations to a close.

Contracts for Max to train at Greenkill Park were not signed before The Freeman went to press, but Billy McCorney said that things looked very favorable for Schmeling to train at Greenkill.

The champ is now on the S. S. New York, coming from Germany, and is expected to arrive in the metropolis Friday. How soon he will come to Kingston was not known today.

Everything is ready for the curtain to go up on the Junior League play for children on Friday afternoon in the High School auditorium, and it is expected that when the orchestra strikes up the overture, nearly every seat will be occupied by the eagerly expectant audience.

The staging is delightful and the costumes, which have been executed by Mrs. Barnard Joy and other league members, are fascinatingly ingenious and colorful. No child, nor adult either, can fail to be thrilled by the amusing antics of the toys, or moved by the same anxiety as Master Peter to learn the contents of the mysterious box which has come way from Germany for his birthday.

And when poor, inexperienced little Pidgey is forced to a duel with the captain of the tin soldiers to defend the honor of the nursery—excitement reigns supreme.

The soldiers will drill, the duel will be fought, the Paper Lady will dance her dainty dances and the Jack-in-the-Box will terrorize the other toys until properly subdued by the Steadfast Tin Soldier himself, all to the great delight of a small boy and the whole auditorium full of happy children and grown up children who still remember their interest in the beloved story of Hans Christian Andersen from which the play is taken.

So be in your places promptly at quarter past four so that you do not miss a moment of the magic hour when Peter and his toys begin their fur.

Danube Parley Split Was Exaggerated

London, April 7 (AP)—Heads of the delegations to the four-power conference on the Danubian affairs gathered at the foreign office again this morning and let it be known that reports of a split at yesterday's meeting had been exaggerated in some sections of the press.

It was admitted that there are differences of opinion on such questions as to whether Bulgaria will be considered a Danubian country for the purpose of these discussions, but it was emphasized that this conference does not plan to set up anything more than the foundations of an arrangement to assist the middle European countries.

No ultimate solution is expected from this meeting and no remedies suggested will be effective until the plans evolved are taken in hand by the Danubian states themselves.

A high authority issued a denial of newspaper reports in Berlin that Prime Minister MacDonald had discussed reparations and war debts at their meeting over the last weekend and that as a result an announcement may be expected at the Lausanne conference in June that so far as Europe is concerned reparations payments will be ended.

2 Prisoners Stabbed To Death in Fight

Pittsburgh, April 7 (AP)—Two prisoners in the western penitentiary were stabbed to death in a fight with another inmate this morning.

The men fought in the main street of the institution. The stabbing was done with an improvised knife.

The dead are Martin Connelly, 29, and Michael Ferraro, 22, both of Allegheny county.

James Gordon, 33, wielded the knife. Warden Stanley P. Ashe said, Gordon was sentenced to the eastern penitentiary from Philadelphia and was transferred to the western institution September 11, 1927, after he escaped.

SAYS HOOVER WILL REPLY TO COMMITTEE CHARGES.
Washington, April 7 (AP)—After a conference today with President Hoover, Representative Snell of New York, the Republican leader, said he had talked over the general legislative situation, including the bonus, Muscle Shoals and economy.

Snell said he felt sure the President would answer shortly the demand of the House economy committee for specific suggestions in shrinking government expenditures, but added he had no definite information that the recommendations would be.

Rev. John J. Hickey Guest Speaker at K. of C. Anniversary

Golden Jubilee of Knights of Columbus Celebrated Wednesday Evening at Governor Clinton Hotel—Judge Loughran Toastmaster.

The 50th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus was a joyous occasion observed by Kingston Council No. 275 Wednesday night with a banquet at the Governor Clinton Hotel where approximately 200 Knights and their wives and friends gathered to enjoy a very inspiring program. The featured speaker was the Rev. John J. Hickey, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, New York city, who formerly was pastor of St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

Father Hickey, introduced, or rather presented, by the eloquent toastmaster, Supreme Court Justice John T. Loughran, spoke as follows: Honorable Toastmaster, Fellow Knights, Ladies and Gentlemen: There are moments in one's life that are so intimate and so sacred that they cannot be described, the feelings are so personal as not to be capable of translation in speech, and this is one of them.

My memory goes back to nearly 37 years ago, and was during the intervening period with recollections that bring joy to my soul, for this space of time includes the length of our friendship.

In this period of happy ministry, it has been given me to pour the waters of baptism on many who are now the fathers and mothers of developing children; to unfold the gospel story to thousands; to assist in the happy nuptials of youth, and to stand at the bier of your departed loved ones—I feel that the greater part of my life has been blended with yours, and I know that there are no others that I know so well, and value so much as the devoted people of Kingston—I feel that the ten-year absence from you is as of a yesterday, because of a persistent effort to renew the happiness that your kindness brought to me.

We have not changed much in these past 10 years. I notice here and there, (and only among the men) a change of gray—a little added weight, (likewise confined to the men) and I say that some seem with their years a little more sober, let me not reflect on the proverbial hospitality of this Old Dutch town that has enforced the Eighteenth Amendment—but our hearts remain young, and our spirits are cheerful and our good fellowship with one another, no matter what his race or creed, are assets that warrant a peaceful and contented living.

Cannot the youngest of us feel assured that when another fifty years roll around, the centenary celebration of our founding will find them conspicuous guests of posterity.

I am particularly pleased that my home-coming is the participation in your celebration of the Golden Jubilee of our Order, because Knighthood has meant very much to me during the whole period of its establishment in this city. I am almost a charter member, lacking that distinction by only one month, and have preserved my membership in Kingston Council during my nearly ten years residence in the city of New York.

Its growth has been coordinate with my ministry, and our association has always been of the happiest recollections.

I take pride in realizing that the privilege was accorded me to lay the cornerstone of your substantial building, and that the membership gave me the opportunity so repeatedly of being their spokesman in many forward movements that their beneficence prompted them to further. Now that the Holy Father stresses the hope that Catholic manhood will take up Catholic action, it is consoling that Kingston Council has anticipated his appeal by the thirty-five years of its establishment in our city.

These efforts for religious and civic advancement are so well known to all our citizens that they need not a new rehearsal, but the history of its achievements is so golden, as to place Kingston Council in the front rank of the twenty-five hundred councils in the United States and Mexico.

The significance of this celebration is not the mere commemoration of a golden jubilee of existence as a fraternal organization, for many similar bodies have withstood the difficult problems that inevitably confront the course of fraternalism, but that it has responded so gratifyingly to the hopes and plans of its founders, who, it would seem, acted providentially, in laying the foundations of a body that would be so deep in its sympathies, broad in its scope of beneficence and high in its purpose to bring men to an exalted conception of their powers—that at once it gained the favor of many who saw in it the opportunity for social and philanthropic promotion, and that its program was able to meet even international crises with a satisfaction that merited the unstinted praise of the leader of our forces—General Pershing—these are superior causes for jubilation to a perardure of fifty years.

Retrospect hallows the many and the noble works that it has accomplished, given our Knighthood that it has been and it is a pardonable pride and it is celebratory a half century of achievement in the varying enterprises that have formed the purpose of our union.

Fifty years ago no prophet, no seer could have foreseen the events that would transpire in our native land, dedicated to lofty principles that would haunt any 150th of 42

Cosmopolitan Jury Will Face Darrow In Hawaiian Action

(Copyright by The AP, 1932.)

Honolulu, April 7 (AP)—A jury as cosmopolitan as Honolulu's "melting pot of races," is in prospect for the murder trial of Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three naval men charged with the lynching of Joseph Kahanu, Hawaiian.

Seven races were represented by the 12 men tentatively seated at the opening of the fourth day of the trial today.

And they have Clarence Darrow, veteran criminal attorney, admittedly as nearly "stumped" as he ever was in his life.

Commenting on the prosecution's rapid elimination of white venturers with peremptory challenges the gray haired leader of the defense predicted there will be no more than three white men on the jury when the case goes to trial.

With a wry smile Darrow said that, for the first time in his 34 years of law practice, he was a little puzzled when talking to prospective jurors. And one of the reasons is that a lot of the jurymen in Honolulu have slant eyes.

"I can't quite make it out," Darrow said slowly as he rested from his labors of fencing with the prosecution over the completion of the jury. "I've had pretty fair luck with juries, but some of these I can't quite tell about."

"I never tried a case before Chinese jurymen. Probably, though, they are no different than anybody else."

The tentative jurors at the opening of today's session were three Americans, two Chinese, two Hawaiians, a Portuguese and a Chinese-American. All, however, are United States citizens.

The number of Anglo-Saxons, whom Darrow has seated whenever possible, was depleted rapidly by the prosecution when it began exercising its 24 peremptory challenges, eight of which were used before adjournment yesterday. Darrow countered by removing Hawaiians and orientals with as many peremptory challenges. But the new panels drawn are predominantly oriental and Hawaiian, giving a distinct advantage to the territory.

Darrow predicted that all of the 18 permissible peremptory challenges would be exhausted before the jury is finally selected. Nevertheless, he agreed with prosecution attorneys in forecasting that the twelve men would be chosen tomorrow.

While counsel maneuvered for the most favorable jury, Mrs. Fortescue, society leader of New York and Washington, D. C., listened calmly.

Her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N., and E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, enlisted men, are the others facing the second degree murder charges.

Captain Hawks, Speed King of the Air, Hurt

Worcester, Mass., April 7 (AP)—Captain Frank M. Hawkes, famous speed king of the air, and holder of several transcontinental records, was seriously but not critically injured shortly after 10 o'clock this morning when he crashed into a stone wall while attempting to take off from the Worcester airport.

He was in an unconscious condition when he was taken to Worcester City Hospital where he soon recovered his senses.

Hospital surgeons reported that Hawkes' face is seriously contused and lacerated. X-rays disclosed jaw fractures, but no skull fracture. He may have facial paralysis as a result of the jaw fracture, the surgeons said.

Sergeant Levenski Killed
Bluefields, Nicaragua, April 7 (AP)—Sergeant Charles J. Levenski, U. S. Marine Corps, of New York, a lieutenant in the Guardia Nacional of Nicaragua, was killed in a mutiny led by discontented native sergeants at Kistlaya, a Guacacapa outpost at Kistlaya, was in command. His lieutenant, Carlos Reyes, a Nicaraguan, was wounded.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, April 7 (AP)—Treasury receipts for April were $3,453,151.22; expenditures $14,354,192.41; balance $592,058,747.25. Customs duties for the first days of April were $2,519,493.84.

Plans Ready Soon

After the petition signed by a majority of the supervisors had been presented Captain Brandt stated that in compliance with the request he would have the road placed on the program for reconstruction and immediately get maps and plans in shape for letting of the contract at an early date. It will probably be a month before plans are completed and ready for submission to contractors.

The petition presented and signed by 25 supervisors includes the names of all of the members of the rights of way committee of the board with the exception of one member. Four of the supervisors who did not sign the petition were not seen by the committee from the Chamber of Commerce and only one supervisor refused to sign the petition requesting construction of the road.

Captain Brandt stated that he would submit the entire route as one project and the road would be let in two contracts, both to be let this year but due to the immense amount of work construction cannot be completed this year but will be completed in 1933.

New Alignment
The new road will follow much new alignment and will require considerable cut and fill work as well as the construction of two new bridges, one across the Walkkill to replace the old covered bridge at Dashville and the other across the Rondout at the lower end of Rosendale village. The road will run over new alignment to Tillson and then again run over much new alignment to the Walkkill, crossing the Walkkill some distance further toward New Paltz than the present crossing.

By the department placing the Kingston-Rosendale-New Paltz road on the 1932 construction program this year Ulster county will receive considerably more highway construction than had been anticipated. The old program called for an allocation of about $279,000 this year while the new route will give the county between $400,000 and $500,000.

Relieve Unemployment.
With the promise of the highway being constructed this year the city will probably take steps to reconstruct the Boulevard within the city limits in order to eliminate the sharp curves and narrow road as it now runs. This will give employment to a large number of local men.

Since the majority of the board of supervisors the petition requesting the road be placed on the program for reconstruction this year there should be no difficulty in securing the necessary steps to authorize the securing of rights of way. This matter will probably be taken up at a meeting of the board which will be held within a few days.

INCREASED PERSONAL INCOME TAX EXPLAINED

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP)—The perplexity of some income taxpayers over the method of paying the increased personal income tax was answered by the state tax department today in this wise:

The usual form, which you received for the year ending April 15, 1931, should be accompanied by insert slip, the slip stating that the levy is double that appearing on the form. The insert slips were made necessary by the fact that the legislature increased the tax after the forms already had been printed.

In view of the notification contained on the slip, to extension of time beyond April 15 will be granted.

Million Dollar Fire

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP)—A million dollar fire last night destroyed in less than two hours the First National Bank Company's plant, leaving losses about 20 men and women. Within fifteen minutes after the three-story brick and steel building had been set ablaze by a flare from an electric wire, a wall caved in, letting a strong wind spread the flames throughout the building.

Appeal Made to Help Curb Tuberculosis

Dr. Robert E. Plunkett, director of the Division of Tuberculosis, State Department of Health, called upon citizens of New York state to help personally in the fight against tuberculosis, in a radio talk over station WGY, Wednesday, Dr. Plunkett's talk is part of a campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis, being conducted by the State Department of Health and State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health and its affiliated local associations during April.

Dr. Plunkett urged all persons having the danger signs of tuberculosis, such as undue fatigue, loss of weight, prolonged or frequent colds or spitting of blood, to consider and consult their family physicians immediately.

"A person, who has these symptoms, unknowingly may be spreading the disease to other members of the household," said Dr. Plunkett. "Not infrequently we find one or two young members of a family in advanced stages of the disease contracted from a parent or an older person in the household who for years has been a victim of tuberculosis."

"A person, who has tuberculosis and who has been advised as to the ways by which its spread may be prevented, usually is far less a menace than the person who has the disease and does not know it."

"The insidious and chronic character of the disease, combined with the lack of knowledge of its presence," continued Dr. Plunkett, "are major reasons why one case after another develops before the original case in the home is discovered. If you have any of the symptoms of the disease you owe it to yourself and your loved ones to have the cause determined."

"The patient needs a thorough examination and a scientific interpretation which physicians only are qualified to give. Your family doctor is your adviser and guide in the matter of health. Consult him. Give him an accurate history of your condition. He will, then, carefully examine you and will determine the presence, or what is just as important, the absence of the disease."

"He may find your condition somewhat obscure and ask to have an X-ray. Perhaps he may ask you for one or more specimens of your sputum for examination. If so, follow his advice. Give yourself the benefit of every possible aid to determine just where you stand. If you cannot afford the services of a private physician go to the nearest clinic, sanatorium, or to your local tuberculosis association where diagnostic service is available."

Dr. Plunkett dispelled the belief that tuberculosis is always fatal. "It is one of the most curable of all chronic diseases," he said. "Undoubtedly, you have acquaintances who have intelligently followed a program of cure. Should not such evidence encourage you and yours, to secure medical advice as soon as possible?"

Talk on Symphony Orchestra Given

The Business Girls Club of the Y. W. C. A. met on Wednesday evening as usual with a special musical program arranged by the committee. The first part of the program was a guessing contest of musical terms which was very much enjoyed by the members. Following the contest Mrs. Clara Norton Reed gave the girls a most interesting talk on the symphony orchestra. She explained the method of arranging the individual scores and the resulting importance of the conductor. She illustrated by a diagram the position of the various players in the orchestra—the first and second violins, the wood wind instruments, the contrabasses, the percussion instruments, French horn, trumpets and violas. A real symphony score was then shown and the conductor's method of leading an orchestra with the necessity of always having the fundamental beat. Each orchestra member must of necessity keep his eye on the conductor at the time of attack and release, said the speaker.

Mrs. Reed gave the girls many hints on listening to a symphony orchestra and illustrated them with her own personal experiences.

Miss Howard announced the program for next week as a birthday party with special horoscopes for each person present and Miss Powley announced that following the supper program Mrs. Myron S. Teller would give the girls a review of a modern novel. The Mother and Daughter Banquet will be held for the club on April 20.

Will Manufacture Artificial Ice

The Eddystone Ice Company received word today that the first carload of equipment for the new ice-making plant here, had been shipped and would arrive later in the week. The company plans to begin the manufacture of artificial ice at the plant May 15.

Owing to the mildness of the past winter the company was able to harvest only 1,200 tons of natural ice which crop was obtained at Lake Kinnelon.

NEWS OF TODAY IN KINGSTON

Probably the most talked about happening of the day is the John Heiser case. His being brought to justice sets plenty of people to wondering what's at the bottom of it all. This is, where did this boy get the idea of professional racketeering? His threats were beyond his ability to carry out but it was sensational.

The fact that boys are satisfying their imaginations has brought many to the county jail, which is filled with youths who have a tempted some form of crime and were unsuccessful. There are now about 33 behind bars, 75 per cent of whom are under the age of 25 years. The prisoners' ages run from 16 to 57 years. Incidentally these two extremes ages, a boy of 16 and a man of 57 paired up in a crime recently.

The state income tax returns must be filed on or before April 15 and at least 50 per cent of the tax paid at that time. An auditor will be at the court house from Friday, April 8 until Tuesday, April 12 to give assistance.

Today is the birthday anniversary of William Wordsworth, famous English poet. He was born in 1770, and although 162 years have passed since then and the great poet has gone from the ranks of those giving the world worth-while literature, his works still live.

It was discovered today that one of the greatest employing industries in this district, the brickyards, are not opening up. This is a setback to the community for it would have taken many of the unemployed. It seems that like everything else the demand for bricks has greatly decreased due to the lack of building operations.

A plane landed late yesterday at the Kingston Airport with a party interested in the heavyweight Max Schmeling. It is believed that if the champ comes here many planes will be landing at the local flying field with parties in search of Max.

GOVERNOR'S FORM LETTER ON HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt has prepared a form letter to be sent in reply to thousands of letters which have been arriving daily at the executive office asking for a special session of the legislature to pass additional appropriations for highway construction.

Extra clerks have been put to work opening the governor's mail since the deluge of letters began. "It seems," Governor Roosevelt said last night, "that most of these letters are inspired by the highway contractors. It has become impossible to answer all of these letters in person."

The form letter says: "I have your letter of recent date relative to a special session of the legislature to take up the highway appropriations. As you know, the elimination of about $17,000.00 from the Governor's budget was decided upon and put through by the Republican legislative leaders without my consent and over my objection. "Until and unless I receive some evidence of a change of opinion on their part, it would be an utter waste of money to call them back in special session."

DYNAMITE CREEK TO GUARD AGAINST COLLAPSE

Northville, N. Y., April 7 (AP).—The weakened Hunter creek dam, an embankment 50 feet high holding back the waters of Northville Lake, was dynamited today to guard against a collapse that engineers feared might have swept away the entire structure at once.

After a dozen charges of dynamite had torn away the south end of the dam and the highway that runs along its summit, the pent up waters, swollen by frosts, broke through with a rush. Late this morning, several hours after the gap was opened, engineers reported pressure against the dam apparently dropping as Northville Lake discharged its waters into the nearby expanse of Sacandaga reservoir. The embankment is 200 feet long.

In spite of the opening, however, a paid force of 250 men and practically all the manpower of this lower Adirondack village was concentrated at the dam to guard against further weakening in the big embankment. Northville Lake is scarcely a quarter of a mile in diameter, but at this season is fed by torrents of "snow water" rushing out of the Adirondack slopes nearby.

Lights of NEW YORK

WALTER TRUMBULL

Real estate men, among themselves, divide New York into districts. There is, for example, the Grand Central district, the Plaza district, the Pennsylvania district, and so on. One of these experts said recently that the absorption power of the Grand Central district, up to 1929, had been about a million feet of rentable space a year. Now there is a surplus there of three and one-half million feet. From this he deduced that the district was now about three years behind former normal growth. He thinks the whole of Manhattan is about three years overbuilt.

It appears to be a fact that in New York and I suppose in all other places, one side of the street, in a certain area, is very much better for business purposes than the other side. They tell me, for instance, that the greatest pedestrian travel is between the Pennsylvania and Grand Central stations. The mass of people on foot cross on the north side of Thirty-fourth street, then turn up the west side of Fifth avenue to Thirty-eighth street, where they cross to the east side of Fifth avenue to walk the four blocks to Forty-second street. This crossing of the avenue is explained by the old Wendell estate, a church, and the Public Library being on the east side. The crowds cross so as to be on the side with the shops.

One of the reasons the Empire State building was constructed on its present location was that it is about halfway between the two stations. But in these days that doesn't do it much good. Its saving asset has been the tower. People have been patronizing that lofty view of the city and country at the rate of about $1,000,000 a year. How long this patronage will continue, nobody knows.

Frank Case, owner of the Algonquin, that meeting place of celebrities, was accosted by an Englishman, who expressed a desire to become a patron of the hotel. Mr. Case welcomed the idea with enthusiasm.

"But, I say, how about my dog?" inquired the prospective guest. "Will it be all right if I bring him? He is just a little fellow." "It is evident," replied Mr. Case, "that you are not aware of the condition of the hotel business in this country. You could bring your dog if he were an Irish wolfhound or a St. Bernard. You could bring him, and welcome, if he were a team of huskies. And, if you care to bring a giraffe, or a hippopotamus with you, that will be all right, too."

I happened to see Henry L. Mencken entering an elevator and said to Mr. Case that I had not known Mr. Mencken was in New York.

"I don't want anyone to know it," asserted Mr. Case. "Nor do I wish them to know that Dorothy Parker or anyone else is in the hotel. If the news got circulated, some of the larger hotel keepers probably would kidnap them."

Radio Jazz Arouses Turtles From Sleep

Des Moines, Iowa.—Mrs. Clarence Cornwell has as pets in her home two turtles that, in outward appearance, are just like any other, but inwardly, Mrs. Cornwell believes, they are far superior to the run of the water turtles. The pets, it seems, have a soul for music. So long as there is no music in the room they lie almost motionless in their tank of water. But the instant the radio brings orchestra music into the house they become excited and swim rapidly about kicking their feet, so Mrs. Cornwell says, in time with the music.

Kansan Is Decorated, He Doesn't Know Why

Newton, Kan.—Despite the fact that he did not see service overseas, Ira H. Burke, of Newton, has been selected by Rumania to be decorated in recognition of his services to that country in the World war.

Under the impression that there was some mistake, Mr. Burke returned the elaborate insignia the first time he received it. He was a captain in the war.

But the Rumanian legation at Washington advised him that there was no mistake and his credentials as a knight of the Order of the Star of Rumania came back a second time. He still doesn't know why.

Rumors Of Civil War In China

Shanghai, April 7 (AP).—Rumors of impending civil war in China reached here today. They centered especially on a report that General Han Fu-Chu, one of the northern leaders who already is in control of Shantung, had thrown down the gauntlet of battle before the Nanking government.

General Han's defection in the north has been known for some time but only today did it begin to receive serious attention in local political discussion. Although he is a former General Chiang Kai-Shek he would no longer remain a part of the Nanking government and that he desired the independence of Shantung. He has not yet begun any hostile action.

Shantung was quiet today, according to dispatches. General Tan, now at Tientsin at the head of 70,000 well-equipped soldiers who control the backing of his control of Shantung.

Rumors of civil war in the north continue to grow in volume here, however, and the Nanking government is destined for an armed clash with the northern coalition which is said to be planning to overthrow General Chiang Kai-Shek's regime and establish itself independently from the Yellow River northward to the great wall.

Meanwhile the peace conference between the Chinese and Japanese here continued with the prospect of a go on indefinitely. Little, if any, progress had been made in solving the vital problem of when the Japanese will withdraw from the Shanghai area.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, April 6.—John J. Every, one of Shokan's leading salesmen, was a business caller in the village last Monday morning. Mr. Every found the going much better than on his last trip here, when he had to do a lot of shoveling in order to get through the drifts.

As a result of the recent rains and melting snow, the west basin of the reservoir is practically full for the first time in many months. The east basin also is rapidly approaching normal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vonder-Osten will be the hosts at a community social to be held in Winchell's Hall on Wednesday evening, April 13. Cards and dominoes will be played at this affair and Van Kleeck's orchestra will furnish music for dancing. There will be no admission charge made for the party but a collection will be taken up for the benefit of the needy in this section.

Residents of Shokan and other places are extended a cordial invitation to attend the social and help make the evening an enjoyable one. Mrs. Sarah Bell has had a new roof put on her residence near the corner. The Tyle concern of Kingston were the contractors for the job. The Bell place is one of the most attractive and neatly kept residential properties along the north boulevard.

Miss Anita Wallerstein has returned to her home in Brooklyn after spending a vacation at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Raymond Osterhoudt, and family of the middle boulevard. Miss Wallerstein has visited Shokan several times in the past and has a number of friends here.

The spring primary was held in the hall on Tuesday from noon till 9 o'clock in the evening. The polls were in charge of Ira Elmdorf, Justus North and Seymour Winne. The primary, though a quiet affair, was a gentle reminder of the old annual town meetings, which fifty years ago were held on the first Tuesday in March.

On April 7, 1853, the Rev. William Hill, a Methodist preacher, delivered an address to the local Sons of Temperance Society, which had been organized on the March 31st preceding. The Rev. Mr. Hill, who was an uncle of Lewis and Clark Shaw of Lake Katrine, was assistant pastor of the Shokan M. E. Church in 1852, under the pastorate of the Rev. S. N. Knison, and in 1853 he occupied the pulpit alone. At the time of his address to the temperance people, the Methodist incumbent here was the Rev. R. Stoddard, who had as assistant, L. E. Nicholas. The system of having an assistant pastor in the local Methodist Church was done away with in the early days of the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell I. Boice of Kingston, former residents of the town of Olive, called on some of their friends here recently. Mr. Boice is engaged in the radio repairing business on Brown avenue. Mrs. Boice before her marriage was Miss Dorothy Hyde, her home having been what is now known as the Sentinel place, in the west end of the village.

Miss Ann Ingalls returned to her home in Brooklyn last Friday after spending several days at the Ingalls summer place here. Miss Ingalls being fond of country life, enjoyed her brief sojourn here very much, despite the rainy weather which prevailed for a day or two.

Miss Betty Gruber, one of Kingston's well-known young business women, spent the week-end at the home of her friend, Mrs. Earl Elmdorf.

Bert Winchell of Ashokan, who until recently was employed on the Raymond Pfitzner place, has purchased the MacDonough place of Robert Secor. The property, which consists of several buildings and a small acreage of good land, was formerly the home of the late Charles MacDonough, who with his family removed to Shokan from New York city following his retirement from the fire department of that city. The house is now occupied by Eugene Every and family who moved there recently from Lewis Tiel's bungalow. It is understood that the Winchells, who are well and favorably known in Shokan, will take up their residence here about the fifteenth of April.

Business callers here last week included Jean Cauchols, president of the French Malt Chocolate Co. of New York city. Mr. Cauchols was accompanied here by Arthur Merrill of Kingston.

Harry Braithwaite, the enterprising florist and nurseryman has a large assortment of flowering plants in full bloom at his greenhouses on the upper Routeville road. Mr. Braithwaite's stock has increased so rapidly that he has found it necessary to construct an additional glass enclosure for storing his plants. Harry's extensive florist business, together with his stock of poultry and the current maple syrup-making operations, have kept him "on the jump" during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waterhouse are in Syracuse, where they have been residing since their departure from Shokan last fall, after visiting at the home of Mrs. Waterhouse's mother, Mrs. Abram Every, of the middle boulevard.

On April 8, 1853, the remains of Private George Rood and Sergeant John W. Markle of the Union Army were in the soil of their native township of Olive. The young soldiers, who had left here earlier in the war with Company A of the 120th Regiment, died in the service at Falmouth, Va., in January, 1863.

The number of cars passing through Shokan and around the reservoir last Sunday was unusually large for this time of the year. Automobile travel in fact was appreciably heavier than on any day since last fall. At times the cars formed a continuous line through the main street, the activity keeping up until well on into the evening. One local resident, with a flare for statistics, who came home from Kingston about supper time, said that he counted more than a hundred cars in going from his bridge to the junction of the boulevards at Stony Hollow.

Naturally, with watching for chuckholes in the old state road pavement and dodging the oncoming cars, this man did not have much opportunity for drinking in the beauties of the spring scenery. The maze of fallen telephone poles and wires at West Hurley and along the Kingston flats proved the premier eye-fall for motorists, many of whom stopped to take snapshots of the wreckage.

Fred Weeks of Kingston is spending some time at the home of his father, Ephraim Weeks, of the mountain road. Fred for a number of years has been connected with one of the leading garages in the county seat.

Claude Rose, local carpenter and builder, has had employment in neighboring townships during the past few weeks.

Alexander Hamilton of the Tonche Mountain road is chopping for Elmer Bedell, the Shokan firewood dealer, on one of the mountain woodlots.

The Home Bureau meeting scheduled for Friday afternoon, April 8, at the residence of Mrs. George Vonder-Osten, was postponed indefinitely on account of the absence in Kingston of the teacher for the day, Mrs. George Sickler, of Ashokan. Mrs. Sickler was called to Kingston to care for her sister, who underwent an operation last Monday. The date of the meetings, at which time the first of the lessons on dressmaking will be taken up, will be announced later.

James A. Hartvig and family have returned to their home in New York city after a pleasant sojourn at their country place overlooking the west basin of the reservoir.

William Zimmerman, the well-known water works employee, is riding around in a classy new Chevrolet sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brooks, Shokan's latest newcomers, are making their home temporarily at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elmdorf.

Everett R. Kinney, the versatile writer, salesman and honey dealer of Ashokan, was the first in the north reservoir section to start cleaning up the premises on the old homestead in recognition of the advent of spring. Due to the recent heavy gale there is a large accumulation of tree branches and other trash in local yards and gardens, and the coming week will witness a concerted drive to do up the grounds on the many attractive residence places here. During the past two or three years the practice of planting a profusion of flowering plants has become increasingly popular with Shokan folks, with the result that last summer the front yards here were a sight well worth going far to see.

Mrs. Lily Martens is staying on Long Island during the absence in California of her mother, Mrs. Jane Scabley of the Catskills.

Among the contributions to the growing population in 1899 was a son, Harold C., born to Dr. George W. and Fannie Van Gansbeek, who at that time lived on the west side of the creek, near the residence of the late Egbert R. Matthews. The baptism of the child took place on July 12, 1891, in the Shokan M. E. Church, the Rev. William H. Vaughn officiating. The Van Gansbeek family lived here for several years before removing to Kingston to make their home.

Charles De La Vergne, well known Kingston lawyer, was one of the many fishermen at the reservoir on the opening day of the trout season.

Sunday, April 3, was a sacramental occasion in the Reformed Church, several new members being received by the congregation at the morning service conducted by the Rev. August Paus, pastor of the church. Those who joined the church last Sunday were as follows: John and Robert Lawson, Alfred and Morris Rose, William Tueling, Jr., Irving Weeks and John Adelt, all of whom were received upon confession of faith, and Mrs. Clayton Burgher, who was admitted by letter from the Lutheran Church of Ellenville. The following persons were baptized at the services: Edward John Grossman, Ellen Sarah Every, Robert Burgher, John and Robert Lawson, William Tueling and Irving Weeks. All of the young men who came into the church are Boy Scouts with the exception of John Adelt, who is one of those listed in the "Prospect Club" of the local troop. The boys have been active in the choir and other activities of the church for the past two years.

Sam Pfromm of New York city and party of friends were among the bright and early fishermen in this vicinity last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Terwilliger of Ashokan report a very enjoyable time on their motor trip to Florida last month. The Terwilligers visited many parts of the state, including Tampa, Clearwater, St. Petersburg, Fort Myers, Miami, and Daytona.

The Tamiami Trail, leading down the west coast and across the Everglades to Miami, is in excellent condition according to Mr. Terwilliger, who, while at Ft. Myers, met a Mr. Corrigan, one of the famous group-of Tamiami "trail blazers" largely responsible for carrying to a successful completion the Herculean task of building a hard road through hundreds of miles of sub-tropical terrain. At Daytona, Mr. and Mrs. Terwilliger saw Aaa Every, a former Shokan boy who has lived in the South for many years. They also said hello to Orville Every, a well known Mt. Tremper resident who goes to Florida every year. Fred Russell of Kingston and Mr. Tremper, who has been wintering at Petersburg, left for home the day before the Terwilligers started on the return trip. Floyd was well pleased with what he saw of Florida, and would like to make a trip to the state every winter, though much preferring his native town of Olive as a permanent camping ground.

Gus Johnson, Fred Aber, Edward Morante and Donald Terhune, all of the Irons, have returned to the city after rustivating in one of the bungalows back on the hill for a few days. The young men are freshmen at Fordham University.

Miss Barbara Tueling is convalescing after an operation which she underwent at a Kingston hospital last week. Miss Tueling is one of the students at Kingston High School from Shokan.

Herman Morris of the lower village, in relating the experience of a party consisting of Mr. Morris, Lester Lawrence, Milton Buley, and the driver of a stranded milk truck, in going from here to Houtbury on the night of the late blizzard, says that it was 4:30 in the morning when they arrived in the Houtbury country. The boys were lucky in finding a big snow plow up the line though delays were frequent owing to the fact that the plow had stuck every little ways and had to be shoveled out by hand. The backs of snow on the sides of the road after the plow had pushed through were as high as the top of the car. Mr. Morris says. The adventurers reached Shokan shortly before noon on the day following the big storm.

Owing to the bad weather during the past month of March, only a few following pupils had any hand in school. The following are the names of the pupils who attended in the month of March: Otto Grossmann, Herbert Wells and Charles Peterson. Results of the tests for the month of March are the following pupils in the average 55 per cent class: Annette Robinson and Alfred Rose; in the 70 per cent class, Etnel Salustiano, in the 85 per cent class, Josephine Leyder; and in the 90 per cent class, Anna Layden.

Krumville Reformed Church. Making The Most of Little is the theme of the sermon by the Rev. Thomas S. Bathwaite in the Krumville church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All are welcome to these services.

The Lyonville Church. The regular church service will be held in this church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The subject of the address by the Rev. Thomas S. Bathwaite will be "Making The Most of Little." All are welcome.

Prayer Meeting. The prayer meeting of the Upper Room Mission, a stage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown, 50 Hoffmann street, on Friday evening, April 7, 1932, at 7:45 o'clock. The Rev. C. W. Bedford will be in charge.

What Of It?
Tired? Well, what of that?
Didn't fancy life was spent on beds of ease.
Fluttering the rose leaves scattered by the breeze?
Come, rouse thee! Work while it is called today!
Forward, arise! Go forth upon thy way.
Dark? Well, what of that?
Didn't fondly dream the sun would never set?
Don't fear to lose thy way? Take courage yet!
Learn thou to walk by faith and not by sight.
Thy steps will guided be, and guided right.

"I could make a lightning change," a girl told her boy friend who had, according to Brushville Betty, waited an hour and a half,
"but I would look like thunder."

D. Dozen heard one of these testimonials the other day which may have some "weight" to it:

Anderson—I hear you're keeping a bag of beer in your room.
Perkins—Yes, I'm taking it to gain strength.

Anderson—Any results?
Perkins—Marvelous! When I first got the thing I couldn't even move it, and now I can roll it all over the floor.

Here's a good one from the lips of a well known merchant: "The sale is never closed until the customer is so well satisfied that he tries to sell the produce to someone else."

Daughter—Did you have many love affairs, daddy dear?
Soldier Daddy—No, child; I fell in the first engagement.

"Banquet is a good enough word in its place," according to Ambrose Bierce in his "Write It Right," "but its place is the dictionary."

Archibald—Won't you ever look with favor upon my suit?
Annabelle—I didn't want to appear rude, but it looks to me as if it needs cleaning and pressing.

A teacher was trying to develop the word "sleigh."
The Teacher—Now, Jimmie, what is it that comes along on runners?
Little Jimmie—Rum.

Pity the lot of woman. All she can do is marry you, nag you, divorce you, and then set you in the coop for not paying her a pension the rest of her life.

Hubby—I never could understand why you women wear furs in summer.

Wife—Good heartedness, dear—it's a time when the animals don't need them.

Joan was hanging over the stern-rail. Very rough sea. Came the disgustingly healthy person to torture the less fortunate:

Healthy Person (booming with joy)—Not sick, are you, Joan, old man?

Joan (weakly but with spirit)—
No, I'm not sick at all. I'm just looking over the back of the boat to see how the captain cranks it.

The best way for a young man who is without friends or influence to begin is: First, to get a position;
Second, to keep his mouth shut;
Third, observe; Fourth, be faithful; Fifth, make his employer feel he would be lost in a fog without him;
Sixth, be polite.

John—Hello, Sam, I hear you've been sick.
Sam—Yeah, but when the doctor told me it wasn't asthma I breathed a lot easier.

Lady Harrison—You're the fifth beggar today that has asked me for something to eat. There are too many of you walking the streets these days.

Dusty Dan—I agree with you, ma'am. Since we've had unemployment everyone thinks they can do our kind of work and dey joins our profession.

Seems to be fewer artificial blondes around nowadays, and maybe the reason is they have seen those two books: "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." "But they Marry Brunettes."

Temperature on Mars Radiometric observations made at Lowell and Mount Wilson observatories agree that the temperature on the surface of the planet Mars rises well above freezing at the equatorial regions at noon and may go as high as 50 degrees Fahrenheit, or even a little more. It is, however, below freezing at sunrise and sunset.

Meet the GOODYEAR

AIRWHEEL

Softest • Safest • Smartest

new motor car tire

*AIRWHEEL is Goodyear's trade mark, registered in the U. S. A. and throughout the world, and is used to denote that Goodyear is the exclusive maker of AIRWHEEL tires

INTRODUCED FIRST BY GOODYEAR to aviation close to three years ago, these big, buoyant, soft-rolling rubber cushions set new standards of safety. They made smooth, gentle landings on plowed ground, swamp land, sand or snow where planes never dared to land before. They took the threat out of tricky cross-wind landings by absorbing side-sway. They gave new softness to landings and take-offs at express train speed. They put new power in brakes. Now Goodyear pioneers these super-soft tires for cars.

HERE is bad news for bumpy roads. Here is a tire that rolls over them as nonchalantly as if they were million dollar highways.

Its name is Goodyear Airwheel, and it's so downright handsome that a lot of people will want a set of these tires just for the style and swank they can add to cars.

But that's only chapter 1, page 1, in the story of what they mean to motoring.

Because they flow over bumps on twelve to sixteen pounds of air, they save you and your car from the jolts you get even from average balloons.

Because they absorb side-swing and take up side-sway, you'll find that they take curves with new security.

Because they put more of the All-Weather Tread against the road, they make the world's best-known safety tread safer than ever.

Because they're light-running and easy-rolling, they need no more gasoline than any other tires, and they make no difference in speed or steering.

Because they've been fully tested on the world's greatest test fleet, we can tell you that they matched the top mileage of balloon tires on test cars run on day-and-night schedules.

Here's the kind of tire that is waiting for you now at your Goodyear dealer's. He can show you five sizes. The biggest, softest, most spectacular is the 9.00-13. But the one which most people are likely to buy is the 6.50-16, because it delivers the luxurious comfort of the Airwheel at closer the price of conventional tires—and in between are the 7.00-16, 7.50-15 and 8.25-15 sizes.

NEW PALTZ

New Palitz, April 7.—A. V. Darton spent Sunday afternoon with Herman C. Darton in Oberville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer from Yorkers and Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Malcom of Ireland Corners were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmer recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knickerbocker and their two daughters spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Van Nostrand.

Mrs. Ezra Kau has returned to her home after two weeks spent in caring for Mrs. George Allen, who has been ill with pleurisy.

Mrs. George H. Brown will move from the New Palitz and Highland Road to an apartment in the house of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Mackey in Highland.

Walter Van Wagenen has been spending his vacation at his home in town with his mother.

Mrs. Millie Dimsey and Mrs. Irwin Mears were callers on Mrs. Elvira Lane last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hasbrouck celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary Monday evening, March 28. Lawrence Osterhoudt, Jr., and Lawrence Vandenberg, Jr., who attend school at Lake Placid, have been spending their vacation with their parents in town.

Miss Jennie Lee Dann of the Normal School faculty spent last Sunday at her mother's home in Monticello.

Mr. T. Roberts of Pintarch spent four days of last week in New York city.

Miss Ethel Aldort entertained at bridge on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Manheim Boulevard. Those present were the Misses Edna Rider, Nellie Bullis, Almira Wright, Hilda Gerald, Katherine Reid, Helen Parker and Mrs. Agnes McKelvey. All were presented with shoulder corsages of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bragg and Mr. and Mrs. George Babbs were callers at Pancake Hollow, Tuesday evening.

Easter Sunday morning the Christian Endeavor Society was in charge of a sunrise service. The neighboring societies were represented. Those taking active part in the service were the Rev. R. Branson of Clintondale, Walter Parker, Mary Langwick, Ramsey Wood, Donald DuBois and Frances Roosa. In the afternoon the members of the society visited the County Home. After the service potted plants and flowers were given to the inmates. The evening service was in charge of Miss Frances Roosa. The meeting was very impressive and the discussion was based upon the meaning of Easter.

The gratifying sum of $80 was realized from the dollar day of the Reformed Church Ladies' Aid. The altar in St. Joseph's Church was decorated with carnations and lilies on Easter Sunday. There was special music under the direction of Mrs. Stephen O'Brien. Perry Berago played "The Holy City" on his violin, with Mrs. O'Brien as accompanist. The Rev. W. Humphrey preached the sermon. Mass was followed by benediction.

At St. Andrew's Episcopal Church the flowers on Easter about the altar were daffodils and snapdragon, with incense added by hyacinths and Easter lilies. A special surpliced choir had been organized by the rector's wife, Mrs. Brown. The members of the choir were Isaac Bell, the Misses Mewkill, Mr. and Mrs. Long, Benjamin Matteson, Mrs. Elbert and Benny Matteson, who led the processional carrying the cross. From the treasures of the Episcopal hymn collections, songs chosen for the service were "Jesus Christ is Risen Today," "The Strife is Over, the Battle Done" and "Come, Ye Faithful, Raise the Strain." Violin playing by Perry Berago completed the especially attractive service of music. The rector, the Rev. Wilbur F. Brown, preached about the appearances of Jesus after the resurrection, to Mary in the garden, to the two disciples at Emmaus, and to the disciples in the locked room.

At the Reformed Church services Easter, the following were welcomed into church membership: From the communicants class, Mildred Card, Donald DeWitt, Anna DuBois, Kenneth DuBois, Axel Johansen, Marie Johansen, Leroy Luckett, Roger Luckett and Gertrude Simpson. On confession of faith, Professor Arthur Bruce Bennett, Mrs. Martin DuBois, Walter Dunham, Oscar Parliaman, Mrs. Oscar Parliaman, Van T. Pine and Judson Schoonmaker. By letter, Mrs. Deputy Anderson, Reformed Church, Accord; Dr. Virgil DeWitt, Reformed Church of the Clove; Professor Howard B. Hoffman, Calvary Evangelical, Linn Grove Indiana; Mrs. Howard B. Hoffman, First Mennonite Church, Berne, Indiana; Mrs. George Knickerbocker, Congregational - Christian Church, Stanfordville, N. Y.; Vincent Lyons, Methodist Episcopal, Milton, N. Y.; Mrs. Vincent Lyons, Methodist Episcopal, Milton, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lyons, Methodist Episcopal, Milton, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kurtz, First Methodist Episcopal, Englewood, N. J. The following were baptized: Mildred Card, Kenneth DuBois, Mrs. Oscar Parliaman, Mrs. Marquerite Lyons, Mrs. M. DuBois, Elwyn Vernon Harp, Isaac Williams, Edith May Benjamin and Walter John Benjamin.

The Easter offering in the Methodist Episcopal Church amounted to about $230.00, being the largest in the history of the church. The garden of the church was a veritable garden of huge plants and many lilies. The floral decorations were fitting memorials to the departed and eloquent symbols of the meaning of the day. The program of the services has been previously given.

Russell R. Atkins opened his drug store in his new stand opposite the New Palitz Hotel on April 1. Mr. Atkins came to New Palitz ten years ago, when he went in the store on lower main street, which Mr. Barney kept until his death.

Owing to the Easter vacation there was no meeting of the House Mothers Association on Monday evening. The next meeting will be Monday evening, May 2, at eight o'clock in the normal school.

Kingston.—The Hammer Man—Edward G. Robinson is at his dramatic best in this oriental story of a hammer man who is forced to kill his dearest friend because of his allegiance to a tong. There is an abundance of fine action in this unusual story, but Mr. Robinson carries off the major honors, as usual, by characterizing a Chinese merchant and tongsman to perfection. This talkie is filled with excitement and thrills, and the acting of Lon Chaney, Leslie Fenton, and Dudley Dicks is splendid. Good entertainment.

Orpheum.—"Lady with a Past" and "Ridin' Fool." The first is a sophisticated story with some very good comedy, and a little risqué in spots. Good entertainment for the grown ups. "Ridin' Fool" offers Bob Steele in another western story.

Broadway.—"X Marks the Spot" and "Seven New Acts of Paramount Vaudeville." On the stage. The talkie is a newspaper story based on the Jake Lingle case with a fine cast that includes Lew Cody, Sally Blane, Wallace Ford, Fred Kohler, and Mary Nolan. In this one, a young reporter gets all tangled up with gangsters, and everything ends up in a grand climax of thrills. The stage presentation offers seven new Paramount Vaudeville acts.

Ritz.—"Hell Divers." Acclaimed by critics everywhere as an unusually fine picture in acting, plot, entertainment, and direction, this whirlwind story of the United States Naval Air Force, and what they do during peacetime, proves to be thrilling.

A LIGHT, STRONG, DURABLE PULLEY

The face of the Dodge Steel pulley is built to fit the belt. There are no grooves in the middle where belt strain is the heaviest, just an even steady pull. This maximum belt contact makes possible the practice of running belts loose, which lengthens belt life and reduces strain on the journal bearings.

The Dodge pulley combines great strength with light weight, eliminating all excess weight from the shaft with saving of fuel at the power plant.

Conservatives Hold Edge in Vote Battle

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 7 (AP).—A tally of returns from 2,075 of the state's 2,845 precincts today gave the conservatives a 10 to 11 advantage in the battle for control of the Wisconsin legislature.

The conservatives were out in front with their candidates for delegates, all of whom were elected by a large margin. The progressives were out in front with their candidates for representatives, all of whom were elected by a large margin.

The Three Hortons By FANNIE HURST

NIMBLE, smart, single-witted, were the Three Hortons, and their long bookings on wide circuits testified to it.

The Three Hortons were a traveling party of any size and almost invariably secured only to importance to a comedian like Frigiana, Bruce or San Francisco.

There were Beauty Horton, whose father was an actor, and Allice Horton, who could outstep any man, and a third, who was a comedian like Frigiana, Bruce or San Francisco.

Town of Olive Retains Flemming

West Shokan, April 7.—At a special meeting of the board members of the town of Olive held Monday evening in the auditorium of the Olive Bridge I. O. O. F. Hall, the board voted to retain Attorney Harry H. Flemming of this city to represent the town of Olive in the impending reservoir tax proceedings against the city of New York.

The town's attorney was the late John W. Eckert.

County Attorney Robert G. Groves was present at the meeting and recommended that the board retain Mr. Flemming. His recommendation was unanimously adopted.

Dogs With Titles
The amazing history of Pekingese has been told by Mrs. A. C. Dixie who spent a long time in China. A thousand years ago these small bundles of trouble were worshiped as symbols of Buddha, and invested with the highest titles an emperor could devise. They were created princes and dukes. They were honored with literary degrees. To steal one was to run a certain risk of enjoying that death known as the "Death by ten thousand slices." Today the Pekingese is guarded with something of the same stringency, but in Tibet and not in his native birthplace, China last her hold on him when the Summer palace in Peking was sacked in 1900, and an English general brought a "sleeve dog" home in his hat as a gift to Queen Victoria.

Britain's Red Tape
The sleepy little village of Upper Tean, between Uttoxeter and Stoke-on-Trent, is where the government obtains its red tape. Officialdom ties itself up with tape from Upper Tean. It also uses the same tape to tie up the parcels of restrictions which go to make Britain what it is. Old women with kindly faces turn out tape by the mile. It falls in cascades from the looms and, on the floor, great piles of red tape may be seen. There is enough tape to trip up the nation when handled with the cunning dexterity of Whitehall.—Montreal Herald.

Dying Request Denied
Though England has produced great painters, oddly enough the only one commemorated in Westminster abbey is Sir Godfrey Kneller, portrait artist from the time of Charles II to George I. Still queerer, Kneller's dying words were: "By G—d, I will not be buried in Westminster." To make absolutely certain he designed his own monument and paid $15,000 for the stone and work and chose a spot in Twickenham churchyard. But due to a dispute of his widow with Pope over the rights to this plot, Kneller was buried in the abbey in spite of himself.

Underground Dwellers
Tunisia has perhaps the strangest cave dwellers in the world. They are found south of Gabon, on the fringe of the desert. In their efforts to escape the heat they have dug dwellings in the sand. The traveler crossing the plain of Malmat comes across what appear to be wells. Looking down, he discovers in the half light a small courtyard, and tunneled from the bottom of the well-like cavity are complete dwellings. Access is through a slowly descending tunnel. Down below the surface lives the whole family, and there are stables for their animals.

Dinner Dresses, With or Without Sleeves

A DISTINCTIVE DINNER GOWN

New York—Adding sleeves to the dinner frock may give it a slightly more dignified aspect but it immediately brings it under the suspicion of belonging to the speakeasy frock category. This type of gown is meant for more or less informal dining and is also dignified under the title of "Sunday night frock." So many smart New Yorkers dine in small neighborhood restaurants that dressing for dinner presents quite a different problem than it did before one took to dining quietly instead of in big restaurants or hotels.

A good many of the really chic dinner dresses worn at the moment are tailored to the point of severity, and the fact that sheer fabrics may be chosen does not alter the case. Plain satins are still very popular but semi-transparent crepes are also enjoying a good deal of favor. While many of the dresses have long sleeves, preference is given to the adjustable or bracelet sleeve. This is usually bloused over a concealed band or narrow cuff.

Evening dresses, whether formal or informal, are cut much higher at the front no matter what depths they may sink in the back. Little lace or beaded jackets still remain in the restaurant or dance picture. In fact, so consistent is the evening jacket that one thinks very little about it, just naturally inferring that a jacket or capelet is a part of every evening costume. Whether one wears one or not is quite aside from the question.

One of the newest and most interesting evening wraps has no opening except that by which it is slipped over the head. This wrap is really a sort of capelet, cut, however, so that it hangs longer at the back than at the front. Schiaparelli expresses this idea with great success, the length always being at the back. This is not only where the extra covering is needed, but the long back produces a more graceful line. Except in the way they are executed, there is nothing especially to note in evening dresses with a two-piece effect such as the one here shown. They are, however, much worn.

Brown Maintains Its Prestige

New York—While brown is not the big color in collections of spring dresses and jacket and coat ensembles, one is nevertheless impressed with the number of times it appears in groups shown by exclusive shops. It is approved in sheer fabrics, in canton and rough crepes, is more often allied with beige or in lightweight woolsens and in prints, with eggshell than with clear white.

A white evening ensemble combines blue crepe and peau d'orange, the former making the skirt and the body of the brief jacket, while the dull fabric makes the sleeves and shoulder yoke, the elbow at the neckline and the pleated peplum, which appears to be a section of the jacket.

The Sweater Makes Way for the Knitted Jacket

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

At left, above, is a knitted blazer like check is sponsored for a bell in green and white, the contrast hop zephyr jacket, in yellow, brown, further emphasized by the introduction of rayon in the striping of this zephyr model.

Below, at left, the brief monotone jacket is favored in tomato wool knit in heavy crocheted effect. At right, the plaid zephyr vestee is sponsored in brown, yellow, white and beige for wear over active-sport dresses.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Slim, simple lines are most favored for evening gowns, which endorse both plain and printed fabrics. Busts are accented by groups of shirring at the front, and almost invariably there is a jacket brought close around the waistline.

Novelty arrangements of straps, made possible by the use of rings through which the straps slip, are significant features of some of the new bathing suits.

Sleeves are full of style diversity, and the very full sleeve is well represented, sometimes of balloon shape, or concentrating the fullness below the elbow.

The guimpe bodice is interesting in afternoon fashions. Bruyere, for example, offers a black dress with a white guimpe, with the added feature of self-embroidered bloused sleeves.

First to Use Iron?

It is thought by archeologists that the Assyrians were the first people to use iron freely in the manufacture of tools and weapons. They had knives and saws of hardened steel. The art of hardening and tempering steel was a familiar one in Homer's time.

Great Russian Church Gown
The church of the Redeemer, at Moscow, which the Soviet government razed, was built to commemorate the deliverance of Russia from the French in 1812 and 1814. It was a thank offering of the Russian people for the victory of the War of Liberation. The work was actually begun in earnest in 1917 and the cathedral was completed in 1923.

"It's too quaint the way Beth gets runs in her stockings".

"Wouldn't you think she'd learn the right way of washing?"

*The LUX way to make stockings wear

LUX
for stockings
2 minutes a day keeps them like new

DO YOU know why the Lux way of washing doubles stocking wear?

It's because Lux is made to preserve elasticity. That's the "live" quality that makes stockings give under strain. Stretch and then spring right back again.

If you wash away elasticity, then the delicate threads break under strain, starting ruinous runs. Or they sag, causing wrinkles, snaky seams!

Just toss your stockings in Lux suds each night and see how beautifully they always fit and what a long time they wear!

Flashes of Life Sketched In Brief

By The Associated Press.
Atlantic City, N. J.—Zoo baby elephant, has the color and a broken leg. After passing the leg in a cast they gave him a pair of whiskers for the color. John Dunning tipped them off that was good procedure.

Milford, Conn.—The post office boys are raising the roof. Applicants for Janitor's new postal building grew cool when they found they'd have to crawl on hands and knees through a low attic to reach the skylight. So the roof will be higher.

New York—Hunter College girls may now smoke, but not in public. Removing a bar against the weed. Prexy told them they'd catch it if caught puffing anywhere but in the new smoking room.

London.—No splits or cartwheels for the House of Commons, thank you ma'am. Fighting an attempt to curb training of children for stage dancing, a young lady offered to don costume and do her stuff. Shocked M. P.'s turned thumbs down on the plan.

St. Paul Island, Alaska.—Sliding for home is what the naval radio baseball team will be adept at. They are practicing on a sand lot covered with six inches of snow.

Grover, Colo.—The government wears skirts here. Women beat the men for mayor and trustees. Mrs. D. A. Leathers, running for trustee, was one of those elected. Mr. D. A. Leathers also ran.

Charlevoix, Mich.—Stolen spears are what John Gallagher blames for his defeat in the election for supervisor on Beaver Island. He demanded a recount, declaring some one hid the spears of William Rickger, who counted the ballots.

Chicago.—Frank Ginger never moved out of the house he and his wife occupy, yet she charged him with desertion in a suit for divorce. "She alleged he told her several years ago that as far as he was concerned she was 'dead.'" Then he moved into one room, where he has since remained by himself, bringing in canned goods and otherwise caring for his own needs.

Newark, N. J.—A gentle host is Warden Charles A. Steadman of the Essex county jail.

He posted placards around the cells reading:
"My friends, you and I are living under the same roof for a while. All of us make mistakes and at times do wrong. Perhaps you have. I know I have. My hope is that I will be a better man for having known you and you will be none the worse for knowing me."

ACTIVITIES AT LUTHERAN CHURCH OF REDEEMER

Sunday morning at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer a Confirmation Class Reunion and Roll Call Service will be held at which time all those who were confirmed and all those who were baptized as adults by the Rev. O. E. Brandorff will be asked to respond when their names are read from the roll. The five Junior classes, consisting of boys and girls confirmed in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932 will occupy the front pews. The members of these classes are making an effort to have 100 per cent of their members present. This will be the first reunion service of its kind since the coming of Pastor Brandorff. The pastor will preach on "Winning the Race".

On Monday evening, April 11, the Class of 1932 will entertain the previous classes. A program of fun will be provided.

The gift of the Class of 1932 to the church, a beautiful Red Turkey-Morocco Common Service Book for the altar will be consecrated at the service Sunday morning. The Confirmation hymns will be sung.

In the evening a Gospel song service will be held, the congregation singing some of the old favorite gospel songs found in the parish school hymnal. There will be a violin and cello trio. The sermon topic will be "The Test of Discipleship."

On Friday evening of this week the Boys' Club under the direction of John Spall will meet at the church at seven o'clock.

ACCORD.
Accord, April 7.—Arnold Greenspan is employed by Anderson Sales and Service as automobile salesman. Mr. Greenspan was formerly a salesman for Ladenheim's garage at Elmhurst.

Samuel Davis, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

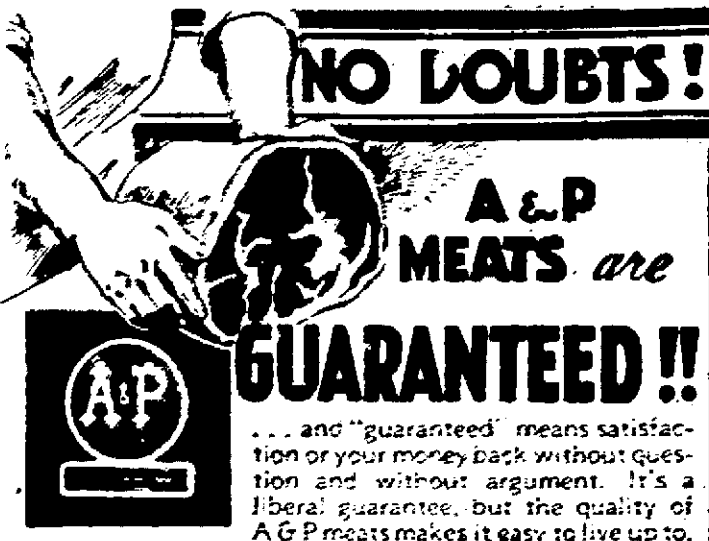

The usual Sunday services will be held at the M. E. Church on next Sunday morning. Sunday school at 10 o'clock, preaching service at 11 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Frank Hastings.

Rochester Reformed Church Sunday, April 10.—Bible school at 9:30 a. m.; Divine worship at 10:30 a. m.; sermon subject, "What is Your Personal Conviction?" Christian Endeavor at 7:30 p. m.

There will be services at the Metacahonts Hall on Sunday, April 10, at 2:30 p. m.

The play, "Patsy," will be given in the Metacahonts hall on Friday, April 8, at 8 p. m. It is a two-act comedy presented by the Light-bearing Society of the Rochester Reformed Church. This play was very much enjoyed by the audience when it was given in the Rochester Reformed Church basement.

OCCASIONALLY for luncheon or for a supper dish one likes a change, something which appeals to the taste and intrigues the imagination. The dish may be an ordinary one, but the serving makes it different.

There have been systems of reckoning time found among the records left by the most primitive peoples. Well regulated systems existed in the Egyptian, Babylonian, Syrian and many other early nations. The Roman and Greek calendars were taken from the Egyptian, Babylonian, Phœnician. The Julian calendar was derived from these and from the ancient Roman calendar and was proclaimed about B. C. 46. Pope Gregory in 1582 A. D. authorized the revision of the Julian calendar, which was adopted by the Roman Catholic countries, but not by Great Britain or America until 1752. By this time there was a variance between the calendars of those nations and those adopting the Gregorian calendar at the earlier date, necessitating an adjustment of 11 days. The Gregorian calendar has now been adopted by practically all the Christian nations and for business purposes by such nations as Japan and China.

An English scientist has developed method which may prove one of the most important inventions for many years. At the present time the world produces more sugar than it can use for food. One of the great problems is to know what to do with the surplus. The invention concerns a process by means of which crude sugar in the form of molasses can be converted into a substance as hard and as transparent as glass. It has, moreover, the valuable property of passing the health-giving ultra-violet rays which are stopped by ordinary window-glass. The material can be blown, molded, or rolled, just like glass.

Of all the souvenirs which tourists have to bring back with them objects of national or local craftsmanship hold a first place. In England many old crafts still survive in the country places, but they must be searched out. Famous old Buckingham lace can no longer be obtained near Beaconsfield, nor bobbins of the old, real old-fashioned wooden bowls in cherry, yew or elm from Chessham, pottery and beautiful pewter, copper and brass ware at Saffron Walden in Essex and in Newport in the same county, the Staffa Cottage Industry, old furniture and at Widdington, rush matting, the earliest form of carpet, made from the sweet-scented rushes that grow in a beautiful land.

A sort of sundial which works without the sun is being erected on the top of a Moorish tower in the gardens of the part of Guayaquil, in Ecuador. A powerful beacon light is being revolved from the top of the tower, operated electrically from a desynchronized clock. The beams of light, which makes a complete revolution every 12 hours, will tell the time at night by shining on a number of well-known landmarks as it revolves. The same spots will be lit up at the same time every night.

consider France, and Italy and Spain to a lesser extent, having succeeded certain oriental and Balkan regions as the center of production of flowers and their essences, enjoy a little lucrative trade from them. It is an important business. Since growing regions for choice products are small, crop failures, not unusual with delicate a product, cause abrupt and violent fluctuations. For the same reason, speculation in these commodities is gambling of a most precarious sort.

Goldfish should never be subjected to extreme changes in water temperature, and it is, therefore, advisable to keep the water stand in the room before putting the fish in the aquarium, so as to take away the chill of the freshly drawn water. For this same reason it is a good plan to remove and replace only part of the water at a time. Unless the aquarium is overcrowded with fish it is not necessary to change the water often.

Scientists are constantly investigating and adding fresh data to show that fresh feeds and nutrition. They have found that fresh calves' liver contains the most copper of all feeds studied. The animal livers are rich in this mineral, calves' being the richest, beef next and pig liver third.

Mrs. Henrietta Miller of Franklin street was agreeably surprised on her birthday April 1 by relatives and friends. The evening was spent with music and games after which the birthday cake was lighted and refreshments were served. Guests present were the Misses Lillian and Anne Bonesteel, James Bonesteel, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Eiten, Mrs. Bertha Van DeBogart, Ira Saxe, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Saxe, the Misses Carolyn and Evelyn Saxe and Ira Nelson Saxe.

The Ulster County Medical Society will hold its next meeting at the new tuberculosis Hospital on Tuesday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock. The society will be the guest of the board of managers of the hospital, who has also invited the Ulster county tuberculosis committee members to be present. Dr. Plunkett, of the state department of health, and Dr. Ornstein and Dr. Coryllos, two noted specialists who are associate members of the Tuberculosis Hospital staff, will be the speakers of the evening.

day evening the annual meeting of the Tongoro Cemetery Association was held at the I. O. O. F. lodge room at Olive Bridge. That an increased interest is being taken by lot owners was evidenced by much larger attendance than last year. All told there were about 29 present. Jacob V. Merrihew, who was for years president of the association, also Henry L. Winchell and William Berryann came up from Kingston. The meeting was called to order by President Harlow McLean, who was chosen chairman. Oscar Dudley was elected secretary. The report of the deceased trustees, James McMillin, revealed a working balance of about $100. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Oscar Dudley, president; Le Grand D. Bishop, treasurer; Charles Allen, secretary. William Jordan was elected trustee to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Mr. McMillin. Three trustees were also elected for the regular three-year term. Harlow McLean was re-elected by the officers present as superintendent of the grounds. A number of suggestions were offered with regard to improvements which will be carried out so far as finances permit. It was voted that in the future the sale of all lots will carry an additional fee attached for permanent care. The grounds are to be mowed at least three times this year.

(AP)—Formally launched, the Troy Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, today attacked the business before it and listened to addresses by the Rev. Ralph Cushman of Rochester, Dr. M. E. Davis of Cincinnati, Dr. Henry E. Crane of Scranton, Pa., and Bishop C. L. Nead of Denver.

Flower Growing a Gamble

Southern France, and Italy and the United States to a lesser extent, having succeeded certain oriental and Balkan regions as the center of production of flowers and their essence, enjoy a quite lucrative trade from them. It is an important business. Since growing regions for choice products are liable, crop failures, not unusual with delicate a product, cause abrupt and violent fluctuations. Maitre d' Hotel Sauce.
Put a tablespoonful of butter into a small saucepan over a moderate fire and add to it chopped parsley and chives. Season with salt and a little lemon juice and while standing hot pour over the fish.

Another sauce to be used for this fish or for any fish is:

Sauce d' Anchols.
Take three or four anchovies, wash them and mix with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Prepare a brown sauce with browned flour, butter and milk.
Stir in the anchovy butter and just before taking from the fire add the juice of half a lemon or more.

Dutch Sauce for Fish.
Take two tablespoonfuls of butter, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cream, one cupful of liquid in which the fish was cooked, one cupful of milk, salt and paprika to taste. Cook the sauce, adding two egg yolks, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and beat well with an egg beater just before taking from the heat. Add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and serve.

"Pannage" Old Custom

During the time of pannage—the legal term for the feeding of swine on a wood or forest—each commoner has a turn his swine into the new forest for a period of four weeks. This custom is one of the oldest in England, says an article in the Montreal "Penny Herald." In early times forest-fatted pigs were thought the best for breakfast, and even men were considered to benefit, and their strength increase if they had an acorn diet. "Pigs in pannage" was one of the most jealously guarded privileges during the feudal days, and one of the few to survive until today.

First Friction Matches

In 1696 ignition of sulphur and phosphorus by friction was discovered by Godfrey Hawkwitz, but it was nearly a hundred and fifty years before this discovery was applied to matches. The year 1827 saw the first really useful friction match, made by a Englishman—John Walker, a druggist of Stockton-on-Tees. In 1836 the first improved friction matches were made in the United States by Alonzo Phillips of Springfield, Mass.

Triple Bombardment Thrown Out By Radium;
Gamma Rays, Like Flames, Sear Human Body

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.

(Associated Press Science Editor.)

New York (AP)—If man could build a cannon that would shoot its flame like fire, and its smoke faster than its shell, it would have a duplicate of the action of radium.

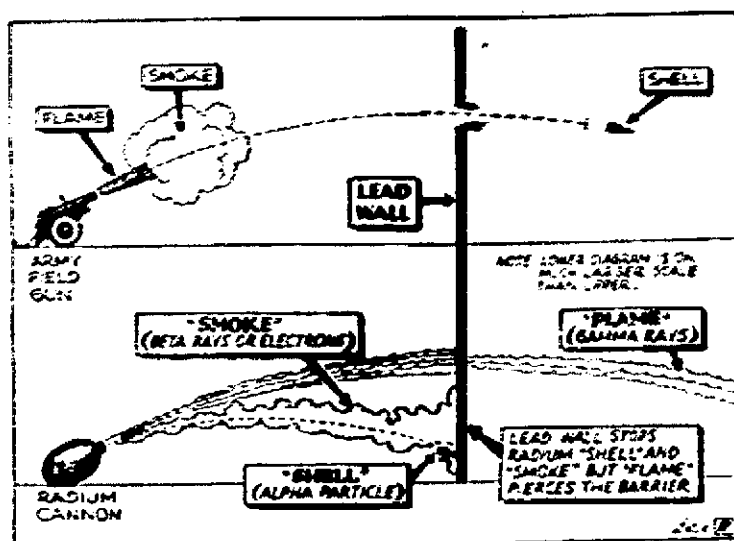

That is one reason why it is so dangerous to permit uncontrolled radium to lodge inside the human body as happened in the death of Eben M. Byers, the sportsman. Radium treatments of all sorts aim to shift the body against all ways of its triple bombardment—the "flame" part of the picture.

The triple radium action is known as Alpha, Beta and Gamma radiation. The first is a stream of Alpha particles, the "shells" of the cannon, which have been identified as the nuclei of helium atoms traveling with speeds up to 12,000 miles a second.

These particles are supposed to be material, and to be composed of the peculiar type of electrical charges bound together to form the nuclei of atoms. They are so heavy that they are used by scientists for bombardment of gases. This causes some of the atoms in the gas and results in profound chemical changes.

The Beta rays from radium are electrons, extremely light, negatively charged electrical particles, which travel at the speed of light. They have been identified by the trails they leave in a vapor chamber.

No specially destructive effects have been traced to the electron bombardment from radium. They correspond to shooting smoke particles for miles out of a cannon. The Gamma rays correspond to the flame, and compared to the par-

The action of radium in sending out a triple bombardment of Alpha, Beta and Gamma radiation, is explained in the chart above. The Gamma rays, corresponding to the flame from a cannon, burn like fire, will pierce lead, and exercise curative or searing effects on the human body.

Healthy flesh. When radium or truly radioactive substances gain entrance to the body without shields, the Alpha particles and the Beta rays add their destructive bombardment. The first medically well-established results of human beings getting actual radium in the body in harmful amounts were reported by Dr. Harrison S. Marshall of Newark, N. J., in the cases of radium paint worker poisoning.

In these cases cancer developed in some persons who had swallowed radium several years previously. Dr. Marshall suggested that the cancer could be attributed chiefly to the Alpha particle bombardment.

Physicians use Gamma rays for comparatively short periods, especially to burn out body growths when the latter happen to be more susceptible to the burning than

HIGH FALLS SCHOOL ACTIVITIES IN MARCH

High Falls, April 7.—The following had a perfect attendance for the March report: Morris May, Thomas Donnelly, Charles Burhans, Mabel Blakely, Filomena DePilla, Mae Tannenbaum, Ruth May, Margaret Schoonmaker, Donald Burger, Giraud Chester, Nathan Haimowitz, Robert Sutton, Delores Ayres, Florence Burhans, Mae Griffin, Ethel Grossman, Lillie McMillan, Dorothy Hanson, Evelyn Schwartz, Beatrice Tannenbaum, Lucille Wells, Edna Wanchell, Marjorie Van Kleeck, Raymond Schoonmaker, Charles Stokes, Clayton Sutton, Robert Van Kleeck, John Feuerbach, Dennis Williams, Geraldine Crispell, Effie Blakely, Mario Smith, Ruth Williams, Edna Countryman and Vera Countryman.

In the fourth report card period the following were honor students: Mabel Blakely, George Budesheim, Thomas Donnelly, Ruth May, Beatrice Tannenbaum, Giraud Chester, Francis Barnhardt, Donald Briggs, Esther Schwartz, Eme Blakely, Edith Williams, Geraldine Crispell and Marie Smith.

Grades 4 and 5: Miss Feinberg's room, are very proud of the fact that they have just won a prize in a national contest conducted by their newspaper, "My Weekly Reader." They were the only New York state boys and girls so honored. The prize was offered for the best kept notebooks of the readers of this paper carrying out the activities which it suggested. This prize notebook will be on exhibit at the exercises in June.

The sympathy of the entire school is extended to Spencer Terwilliger in the loss of his mother.

Farm Leaders Urge Money Revaluations;
May Seek Planks In Party Platforms

By FRANK L. WELLES

(Associated Press Farm Editor)

Washington (AP)—It becomes increasingly apparent both political conventions this summer may be asked to write into their platforms a plank for reform of the country's monetary system.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which, with the National Grange and the Farmers' Union, is demanding return of what he terms the "honest dollar," says that if congress does not "fulfill its constitutional obligation" to regulate the value of money the farm groups will "go before the nation on this great issue."

The "honest dollar" is a gold standard dollar, but one sufficiently deflated to bear the same relation to commodity values as existed in the period 1921-29. Bills extant propose the federal reserve board be instructed to change the quantity of gold in the dollar until its purchasing power is no greater than the index price level of the more than 700 major commodities.

Indirectly, the process would be one of commodity inflation since it would increase the number of dollars that could be bought with a given quantity of any commodity.

It is because more wheat and more cotton and more cattle are required in exchange for the same number of dollars that organized agriculture insists on a revaluation of money based on the 1925 level of farm prices and the dollar stabilized at that point.

If that were done commodity and money values henceforth would fluctuate in direct ratio and corn or pig iron would be constant in purchasing power.

Congress has before it the so-called Fisher bill to change the price of gold from time to time to correspond to changes in the general commodity price level and the revised Goldsmith bill which embodies elements of the old Ramseyer, Strong, Keller, Burness and Goldsborough bills calling for restoration of the pre-deflation commodity price level.

They are strongly opposed in powerful banking circles.

The effect of either bill would be to raise the farm price level 40 per cent.

Wife Was Fat
No Longer Attractive

LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE

The above headlines appeared in New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention.

"She was a beautiful woman," a witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time improve in physical charm and acquire clean, clear skin and eyes to sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity? What can do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastries and fatty meats and going light on butter, cream and sugar. Then the fat will melt and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of famous salts most helpful to body health. Remember, a body of Kruschen Salts that you get for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. At McBride Drug Stores or any drug store, a little and start to lose fat today. It's the safe way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first and remember this if you are not satisfied with results—money back.

These new low prices are f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., and include—at no extra charge—all of the important improvements listed in the panel to the right. Pontiac more than ever is Chief of Values.

Thus, as the National Exhibits of General Motors Products open, effective April 2nd, Pontiac Six, Chief of 1932 Values, further establishes its value leadership.

These reductions—up to $50 per car—represent exceedingly important savings to motorists who desire the refinements and riding comfort usually found in larger cars, but who wish to purchase these qualities at a low price.

These prices are the very lowest ever quoted for Pontiac cars and are for the finest and largest six-cylinder cars Pontiac has ever built. The resulting values are, we believe, the very greatest ever offered the American public during the whole of the motor car's history. They mean a new basis of motor car values, a new incentive to the American people to buy motor cars now.
